Dear Mr. Saffro:

Please accept my apologies for an overly zealous staff member having stamped my signature on your drawing. I assure you the second signature is legitimate.

Sincerely,

STANSFIELD TURNER

Dear Mr. Strong:

When I wrote Admiral Stansfield Turner for his autograph, I did this after my good friend Sen Adlai Stevenson indicated to me that the Admiral would most assuredly sign it. I didn't expect someone to casually take a rubber stamp to my drawing and then add to this by stating "The Director has signed his photograph - etc".

I can understand that the President will use a machine because of press of business but I am willing to wait a few weeks until the Admiral finds time to actually sign my drawing.

I would appreciate you're again presenting my drawing to the Director for his own true signature.

Thank you
Yale L. Saffro
